

DR. PHYLLIS D. DEUTSCH
Phyllis.D.Deutsch@Dartmouth.edu

EDUCATION

Ph.D. in History, New York University February 1991

Fields of Study: Modern European history, women's history, Jewish history, comparative European cultural history

Dissertation: Fortune and Chance: Aristocratic Gaming and the British Public Trust, 1760-1830

M.A. in History, New York University May 1985

Fields of Study: U.S. and modern European history

B.A. in English and Comparative Literature
Washington University, St. Louis May 1977

AWARDS AND HONORS

Mellon Fellowship in the Humanities
Five-year full tuition and stipend to New York University August 1983-June 1988

Mylonas Fellowship in the Humanities
Four-year full tuition and stipend to Washington University August 1973-June 1977

ACADEMIC EMPLOYMENT HISTORY

Institute of Writing and Rhetoric, Dartmouth College
Lecturer Fall 2017, Winter 2018

Courses taught:
Writing 5: Gender and the Holocaust

University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia 1992-1996
Full-time Lecturer (non-tenure track)

Courses taught:
Undergraduate lectures: Western Civilization Survey (both semesters); modern Britain; French Revolution
Undergraduate seminars: Modern Ireland; Topics in U.S./modern European history
Graduate Seminar: European Women's history

Drexel University, Philadelphia
Cigna Adult Education, Philadelphia
Adjunct Lecturer 1994-1996

Courses taught:

Lectures: Modern Europe/European Women's history
Seminars: modern Britain

New York University
Full-time Lecturer (non-tenure-track) June 1988-June 1992

Courses taught:
Undergraduate lectures: Western Civilization survey (both semesters); Modern British history; French Revolution
Undergraduate seminars: Topics in US/European history

Columbia University, New York
Adjunct lecturer June 1990-June 1992

Courses taught:
Undergraduate seminars: European Women's History; British and French cultural history; comparative US/British cultural topics

New School for Social Research (Lang College), New York
Adjunct lecturer June 1990-June 1992

Courses taught:
Undergraduate seminars: European Women's History; British and French cultural history; comparative US/British cultural topics

Additional non-academic teaching experience:

Chaired or participated in several publishing workshops across New England 1998-2014

Yoga instructor, diverse Upper Valley locations 2000-2016

PUBLISHING EMPLOYMENT HISTORY

University Press of New England, Hanover/Lebanon, New Hampshire
Editor in Chief 2004-2017
Senior Editor 1996-2004

Fields: Jewish studies; U.S. and European history, politics, literature, and culture; literature and literary criticism; women's studies/gender studies; criminology and law; environmental studies; global health and medicine

Free Press, New York
Editorial Assistant 1988

Fields: U.S. history, sociology, and law

Oxford University Press, New York
Assistant Editor 1980-1982

Editorial Assistant

1978-1980

Fields: U.S., European, and World history

Academic Publications

“Moral Trespass in Georgian London: Gaming, Gender, and Electoral Politics in the Age of George III” in The Historical Journal, 1996

“The Vortex of Dissipation”: Georgiana, Duchess of Devonshire, in Women & History: Voices of Early Modern England, edited by Valerie Frith, Coach House Press, Toronto, 1995

Review of Berkshire Women’s history panel in History Workshop Journal, 1994

“Theater of Mating: Jewish Summer Camps and Cultural Transformation” in American Jewish History, 1986

Non-academic Publications

“The Young Ladies are Upset:” Organizing a Union in the Publishing World” in Radical America, 1983

Book Reviews

Pure Lust: Elemental Feminist Philosophy, by Mary Daly, in Womannews, September 1984

Marie: A True Story, by Peter Maas, in Womannews, September 1983

In a Different Voice: Psychology Theory and Women’s Development, by Carol Gilligan, in The New Women’s Feminist Review, Sept/Oct 1983

Film reviews:

Sophie’s Choice, in Jump Cut, 1983

The Verdict, in Jump Cut, 1983

Star Wars Trilogy and The Wizard of Oz, in Womannews, October 1983

E.T., in Womannews, December/January 1983

CONFERENCE PRESENTATIONS

“Charles James Fox and the Perils of Aristocratic Gaming” at the North American Conference on British Studies, San Diego, 1990

“Georgiana, Duchess of Devonshire, and the 1784 Westminster Election” at the Berkshire Conference of Women’s Historians, New Brunswick, 1993

“Gender, Aristocracy, and Gaming in 18th Century England” at the American Society for Eighteenth-Century Studies (ASECS), New Haven, 1994

